CONNECT WITH KIDS
WebSource

How to Use Connect with Kids WebSource

The Connect with Kids WebSource evidence-based multimedia platform – featuring real videos in which kids share their real stories – is adaptable for a single user, small group, elementary, middle or high school classroom or assembly presentations. Download lesson plans, discussion questions and family viewing guides to support social and emotional learning within the classroom and at home. Educator Professional Development offers insights and strategies to address today's top challenges.

Students	Teachers, Counselors, Parent Coordinators	Parents
Advisory Sessions	Professional Development	Home viewing
Peer Leadership Groups	Parent-Teacher Conferences	Parent Communications: Publicize links to parents via News and Trends emails
Health and Wellness Classes	Individual or group counseling	One-on-–one counseling sessions with parents
Journalism/Multi-Media Classes	Mentoring	PTA Meetings
Technology	Short sessions within core academics to reinforce student behavior	Parent Workshops
Assemblies	Advisory	Parent-Peer Programs
Individual or Group Counseling	After-School Programming	Parent Coordinator training
Flipped Learning: Watch video at home, discuss at school	Extra-Curricular Activities	Use in neighborhood, church and synagogue programming

Why WebSource Works

Connect with Kids puts Mutual Aid methodologies in motion, recognizing the power of one's peer group as a vehicle for solving common problems. Relevant, compelling videos use the power of storytelling to create an emotional connection with the topic at hand. Supporting activities engage students, providing a forum to try new behaviors, give and receive feedback and positive support, and to learn with the aid of a trusted adult.